Key Priority 2 Quality of teaching, learning and assessment

2.1 Increase the proportion of consistently good teaching across the school through incisive and responsive Assessment for Learning (AfL) strategies.

2.2 The regular use of variation in task design:

2.3 Embed learning journeys within English and Mathematics, so that they motivate pupils, build on pupils' needs and provide opportunities to apply skills across the wider curriculum.

a) Develop pupils writing and maths skills and provide pupils with more opportunities to write at length across the curriculum.

b) Ensure TAs work with teachers to raise learning and attainment, while also promoting independence and self-esteem.

c) Pupils develop fluency and resilience to solve problems.

2.4 Ensure pupils receive the support needed to gain the phonics and comprehension skills required to make good progress in reading.

2.5 Embed an enquiry based approach through Key Stage 1 that inspires and motivates pupils.

Milestones Autumn 2018	Milestones Spring 2019	Final Outcome by Summer 2019
2.1 Increase the proportion of consistently good teaching across the school through incisive and responsive Assessment for Learning (AfL) strategies.
Consistent application of AFL strategies, set as non-negotiable in September. In place. Need for regular review apparent – impact in classrooms variable. Feedback/marking is evident within lessons/books. Noted in moderation and lesson observations. Impact of marking apparent in books. Pupils use feedback well and know what to do to improve. Book scrutiny indicating 'red pen' editing in operation, teacher feedback annotated and pupil responses noted. Teachers give sufficient time for pupils to review learning and develop further. Not yet fully embedded in all classes. Deeper questioning and challenge for more able needed. Teachers identify and support those pupils to fall behind and intervene to improve their learning. Same day follow ups evident. Support plans in place for individual pupils. Teachers use formative assessment to secure pupils' progress from starting points. Nov data drop indicates variable progress, particularly in reading and writing.	Teachers check pupils' understanding in lessons, following the school's assessment policy. Formative assessment positively impacts on progress within lessons: - Feedback and self-evaluation enable pupils to improve their work and address misconceptions - Teaching inputs and learning reviews are flexible and responsive to 'live' learning to offer additional support or to further challenge - 'Talk for learning' within guided groups challenges pupils to articulate and extend their thinking / reasoning using technical vocabulary.	Teachers check pupils' understanding systematically and effectively in lessons, offering clearly directed and timely support. Teachers provide pupils with incisive feedback, in line with the school's assessment policy, about what pupils can do to improve their knowledge, understanding and skills. The pupils use this feedback effectively. Pupils are eager to improve their learning. They capitalise on opportunities to use feedback, written or oral, to improve. Teachers tackle misconceptions and build on pupils' strengths. Teachers are determined that pupils achieve well. SEF evidence in relation to Ofsted 2019 framework indicates teaching, learning and assessment is good.
2.2 The use of variation in task design leads to strong progress from starting points;
Evidence of variation in task design (planning/books). Evident in book scrutiny. Need to see clear progress by more able. Teachers plan precisely for pupils' next steps. Planning in place – daily updating not yet fully embedded and more able progress variable.	All teachers use effective planning to help pupils learn well. They set tasks that follow a clear sequence of learning and challenge all pupils. Time in lessons is used efficiently to ensure all pupils make progress.	Teachers plan lessons effectively, making maximum use of lesson time and coordinating resources well. Teachers identify and support any pupil who is falling behind, and enable them to catch up.

All pupils given opportunities to develop conceptual understanding, fluency and reasoning. Regular challenge to more able not yet embedded. Formative assessment impacts across a sequence of lessons. Remains a work in progress. - Task design is varied to meet learning needs; flexible groupings/inputs impact on progress within work unit. Increasing evidence through lesson observations although flexible teaching not yet universal across school. Good support to least able apparent – more able progress less well defined. - Pupils able to work independently, with appropriate resources on tables or working walls. Independence remains low; resource provision increasing; working walls not yet fully supportive. Classroom environments inconsistent and learning walls not yet embedded. Pupil progress meetings indicate that pupils are on track for aspirational targets (GDS). Challenge and Review meetings completed. Aspirational targets shared. Meetings are challenging teachers but response and follow up variable.		In lessons, teachers develop, consolidate and deepen pupils' knowledge, understanding and skills. They constantly challenge pupil thinking.

2.3 Embed learning journeys within English and Mathematics, so that they motivate pupils, build on pupils' needs and provide opportunities to apply skills across the wider curriculum. a) Develop pupils writing and maths skills and provide pupils with more opportunities to write at length across the curriculum. b) Ensure TAs work with teachers to raise learning and attainment, while also promoting independence and self-esteem. c) Pupils develop fluency and resilience to solve problems.
Learning Journeys in English continue to be embedded, showing opportunities for children to write at length. Increasing opportunities although writing stamina remains low for many. Monthly writing task now in place to focus on independent stamina and quality. 3 Phase planning model enables pupils to discuss and record ideas, develop their vocabulary, and apply GPS in purposeful contexts. Planning model in place and being used by all teachers. Reading strategies empower pupils to increasingly write creatively and formally to meet or exceed ARE. Remains work in progress. Pupil vocabulary often weak – need for all teachers to understand vocabulary progress across year groups.	Opportunities to write at length are evident in literacy books and cross-curricular writing. Sights of application can be clearly cross-referenced to the planning and individual children's assessments/curriculum domains.	A higher percentage of children are at ARE than Autumn 2018 predictions. A higher number of children are at GD in EYFS, KS1 and KS2 writing.
Teaching assistants use Six Strands assessments to identify barriers to learning for vulnerable pupils (Phase 1). In place and being used. Pupils develop the capacity to learn from mistakes, commit to improving their work and become keen learners who want to find out more. Pupils willing to develop, consolidate and deepen their knowledge, understanding and skills. Some evidence through monitoring but editing skills in KS1 low and problematic in KS2. Stamina and thirst for knowledge remains low for some. All classes have a number of challenging and high needs pupils – nurture/support plans in place but progress for some is small steps.	Pupils focus well on their learning because they are motivated by interesting and challenging tasks. Teachers develop and consolidate pupils' knowledge, understanding and skills. Teachers plan learning that sustains pupils' interest and offers challenge. Teachers expect all pupils to work with positive attitudes to apply themselves and make good progress.	Teachers manage pupils' behaviour effectively. Teachers use subject knowledge to plan learning that sustains pupils' interest and challenges thinking. Teachers encourage pupils to strive, recognise their efforts and ensure pupils take pride in their work. Teachers have consistently high expectations of pupils' attitudes to learning. Pupils love the challenge of learning. They are curious, interested learners who enjoy using new information to develop, consolidate and deepen their knowledge, understanding and skills.

Behaviour Policy reviewed and updated. In place. Consultations complete. Impact evident. SLT working hard to ensure positive impact. Children and parents are informed about the revised behaviour policy, and understand their roles and responsibilities to ensure success. Completed. The school is an orderly environment. Generally orderly with re-integration of alternative provision pupils successful. Pupils respond quickly to instructions and requests from staff, allowing lessons to flow smoothly and without interruption. Work in progress – lesson observations shows generally positive learning environments. Small group of challenging pupils, several in danger of exclusion/permanent exclusion – need for multi-agency approach. Pupils' conduct reflects the school's efforts to promote high standards. There are marked improvements in behaviour for individuals or groups with particular behavioural needs. Several exclusions have underlined behaviour expectations. Generally positive behaviour responses. Challenging behaviour remains on a daily basis by small group of pupils.	Pupils' attitudes to their learning are consistently positive and impact on progress. Absence is above 96%. No groups of pupils are disadvantaged by low attendance. Attendance of pupils who previously had high rates of absence shows marked and sustained improvement. CPOMS installed as schools Safeguarding and Child Protection software. Completed. All Staff trained. Initial training completed and system in use. System providing good history/timeline and coordinating responses to incidents/actions apparent. Quality of reporting and the systems for analysing safeguarding and behaviour concerns are much improved ensuring that teachers are also quick to tackle any concerns including the rare use of derogatory language or incidents of bullying. Initial reporting indicates benefit of system with increasing linkage between behaviour, home circumstance and safeguarding. Increasingly being used to establish behaviour patterns. Safeguarding is effective. Leaders and staff take appropriate action to identify pupils who may be at risk, reporting concerns and supporting the needs of those pupils. Safeguarding in place. Audit completed 11 Dec and successful. Monitoring on going and indicates follow up action needed for SCR.	Enhanced monitoring of safeguarding and behaviour ensures issues and patterns are identified efficiently and effectively.
