Riddle of the week:

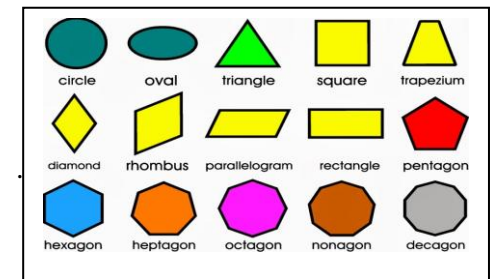

What Am I?

I'm really easy to get into,
but really hard to get out of!

Answer - trouble

Maths: 2D shapes

- Look around your home and count how many different 2D shapes you can find. List 10 different objects and their shape (eg, television – rectangle).
- Which shapes have right angles? Draw the object and show the right angle. Which shapes have lines of symmetry? Draw the object and show the lines of symmetry.
- Design a plan for a square room using only 2D shapes. Use different shapes to represent the furniture in your room (eg, circle for chair, rectangle for bed, etc). You can decide what furniture to have in your room. Label the items in your room.

P.E: How far can you walk in 10 minutes? Can you beat this next time? Can you challenge someone in your family to who can walk the quickest or farthest?
